SERVANT OF GOD

in Memoriam

It is extremely difficult for a vision or a dream to become a reality and such a thing seldom ever happens. Therefore, the "Sou-wester" here takes the opportunity to pay tribute respectfully to a man who lived, worked, and died that his dream of a greater Southwestern might become a reality.

Dr. J. N. R. Score was a man of vision, a man of high ideals, a man of God, and a man whose life was devoted to the best interests of his fellow man. Throughout his eight years on this campus, Dr. Score worked to make Southwestern a university of which all Methodism could be proud and succeeding years will prove his work was not in vain.

Mere words cannot memorialize the efforts and effects of this man on our university. However, the buildings which will be erected will stand forever as a fitting tribute and the young men and women who are receiving and will receive their education in these halls of learning will go out into the world as living memorials to the success of a man who had the determination and courage to make his dreams come true—Dr. J. N. R. Score

DEDICATION

To

The memory of Dr. Score, who worked unceasingly to make Southwestern better,

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins for their strengthening of Christian life at Southwestern through the giving of Lois Perkins Chapel,

The Board of Trustees for their interest and supervision,

The Administration for its sympathy to our problems,

The Faculty for giving of priceless knowledge, advice, and associations,

The people of Georgetown for their hospitality and cooperation,

Our parents for giving us this education,

The matrons and everyone on the campus who have given of their time and efforts, their love and spirit and friendship toward making 1949 and 1950 the best year for Southwestern.

Jim will write the dedication in future years.

SOUTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

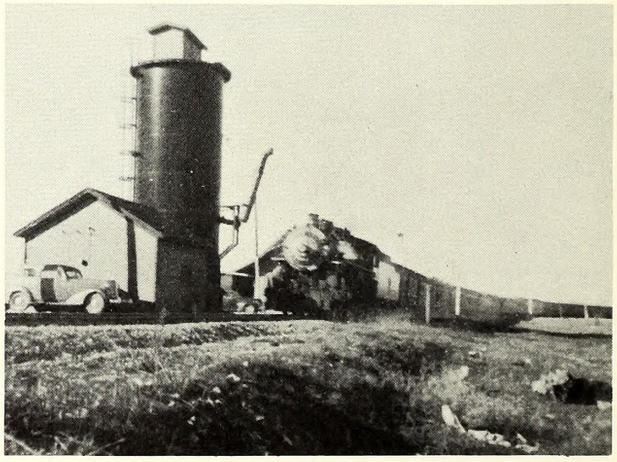

On the wide-lawned campus here at Southwestern is enacted a drama of youth: of carefree hours spent among friends, of fruitful hours spent in satisfying study, of heartaches, of joys. Here is a pattern for living.

When one recalls Southwestern he remembers many things — things which touch the heartstrings and bring forth the reminiscent music of happy moments plucked from cadenzas of serious thought, bouyant friendships, poignant griefs, ever-widening horizons, peace, and restful security. Southwestern is more than all of these, more than the buildings, more than the people — it is a tradition, and an ideal.

If only the shady walks might tell the secrets which their sympathetic ears have heard; if only the buildings might share the whispered dreams, and the confidence which comes with knowledge. The years will never erase these memories, for they are as indelible as time:

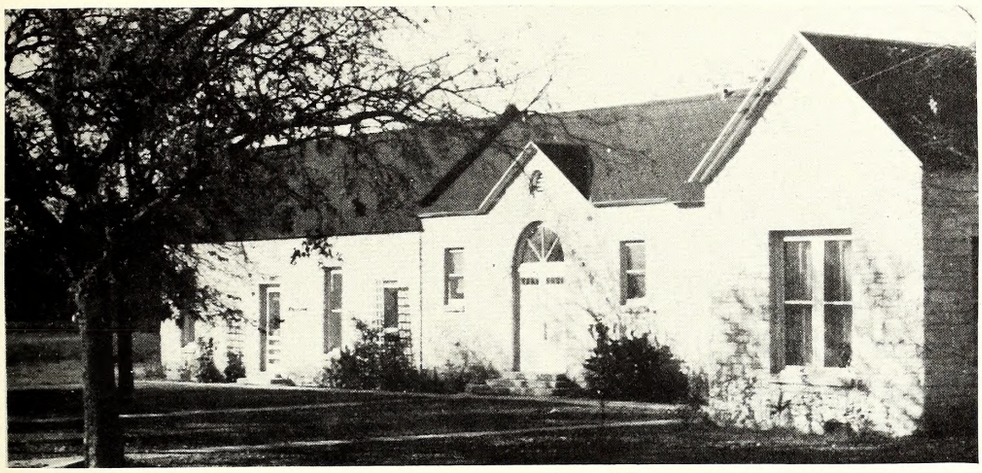

. . . . . .Moonlight over the Ad Building etching in gentle relief the stone towers and ivy-covered walls that have seen generation upon generation pass by in search of a future . . . . . the Student Union and the disappointed faces after selling a book back, the easy rhythm of the tinkling upright piano, the fast and furious ping-pong games . . . . . Mood Hall, — yes, good old Mood Hall, with its balconies and skylight, its familiar views from the west windows of the tracks and the watertower, the boys, the controlling hand of Mrs. Cornwell . . . . . the infirmary, the restless patients anxious to be up — to be with the friends who come to the windows and talk because they are not allowed in as visitors . . . . . the thrill of a football game at Snyder Field, the crowd, the yells, the antics at half time, the colorful floats across the field at Homecoming, the proud feeling when the Pirates emerge from the fieldhouse . . . . . the Art Shop, with trumpet sounds coming from the band room, and clay modeling and figure drawing going on in the art department, the "No Admittance" print shop with its myriad equipment . . . . . Skinney's Tavern, where good friends get together, the scene of conversation over coffee cups, elation and dejection at the mailboxes, the clink of nickels on the pinball machines and "I've got the next one!", the innumerable posters on election day . . . . . the Angels of Barracks A (not always so angelic) who think it is their job to keep the dog kingdom well populated . . . . . the old Science Building, decrepit but still there, still keeping students up until all hours with Bunsen burners and test tubes searching for unknowns . . . . . the Science Facility, with its dogfish and dogged Biology students . . . . . the combination of sounds coming from the Fine Arts Building: an orchestra, band, chorus, fifteen pianists and an organist all tuning up at the same time . . . . : . Rendezvous at the library with love as the general heading . . . . . the exciting varsity basketball and girls' intramural volleyball games in the gym, the P. E. classes, and the tap dancers . . . . . finally, L. K. Hall, the midnight gab sessions and cheese and cracker parties (chili, before the hotplates were confiscated), the dining hall, the annex and chapter rooms, the immaculate cleaning when visitors are expected, the traffic jam on Saturday nights, the farewells on the front porch . . . . . .

On this our campus is built an institution; on this campus is built a hope — to give each student, outside the realm of degrees and teachers' certificates, an intangible guidepost for the future.

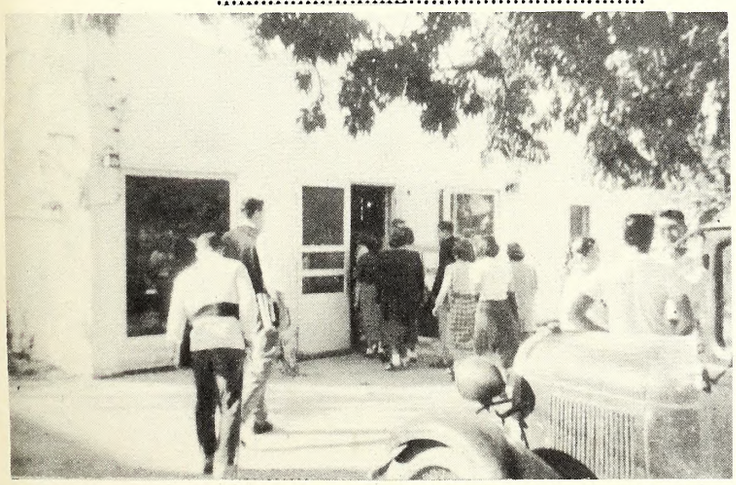

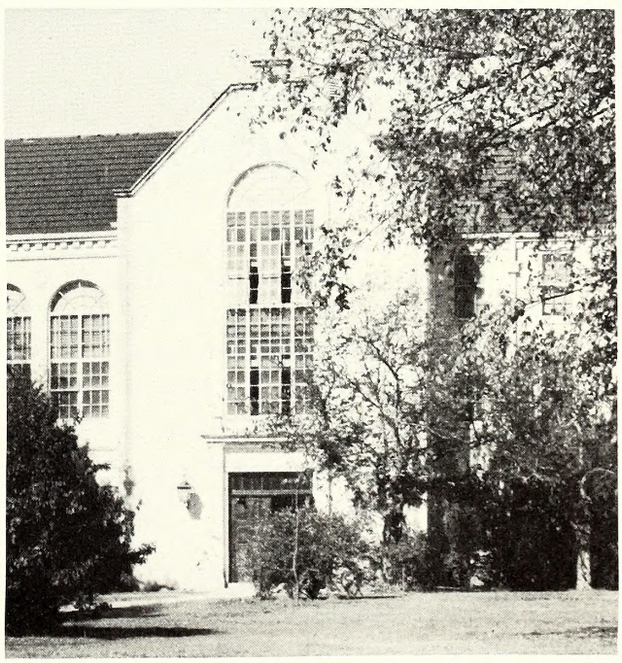

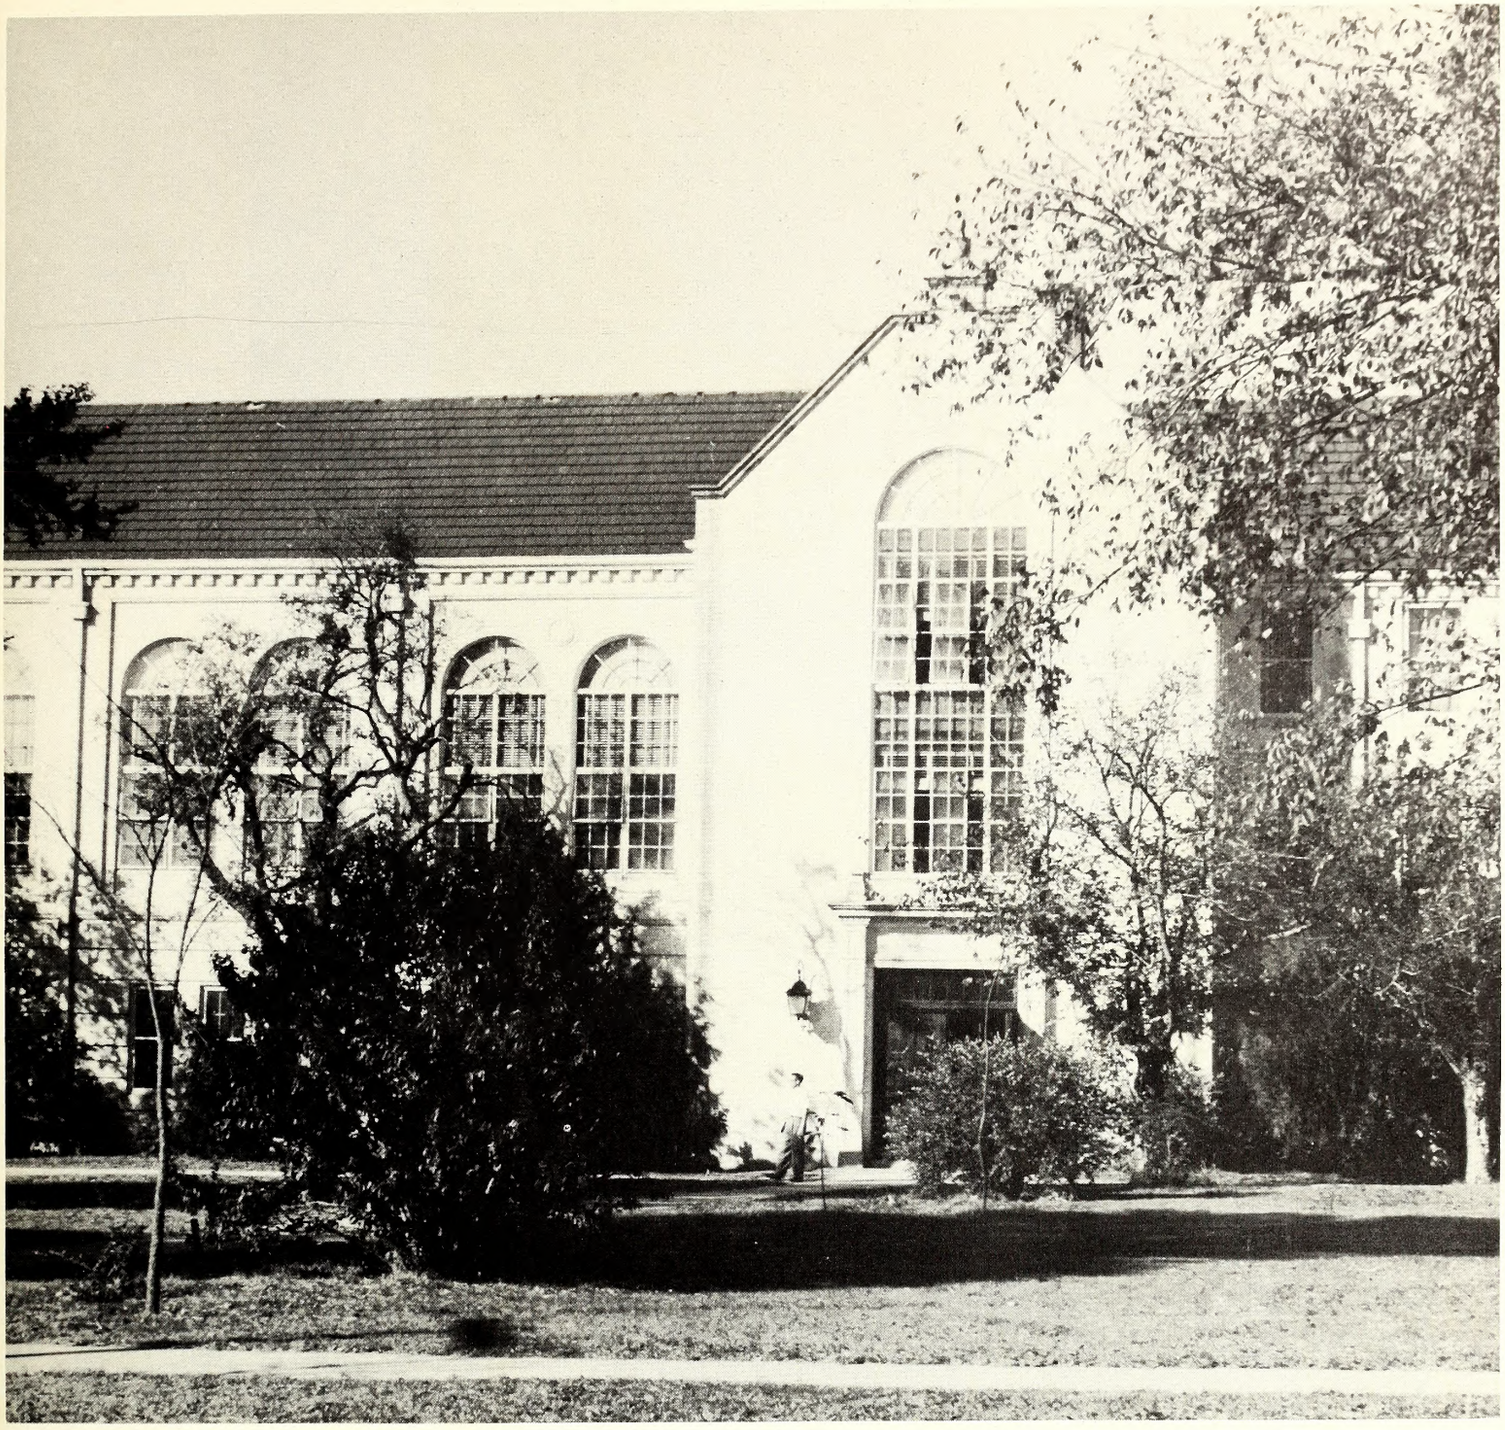

the Administration building

In this building lies the heart and pulse of the school from which the students draw their resources – not meaning in this case the monetary resources which can be found in the business office. The administrative offices found here create the basis of our education and here we find not only the professors, the walls and blackboards, but that bit of knowledge which sparks our lives to growth in a Society—one of which we are becoming a part.

Each of us has had his own separate experiences which will never be forgotten, whether it be time spent standing in registration lines, the stroll in the hall to the coke machine, or those few anxious moments spent outside the Deans' offices. To some it is a building which must be left, seldom to be entered again, but to others it is the symbol of what is to be received in their next few years here. In either case, it is the building that is never to be forgotten from that first view from the distant hill along the highway.

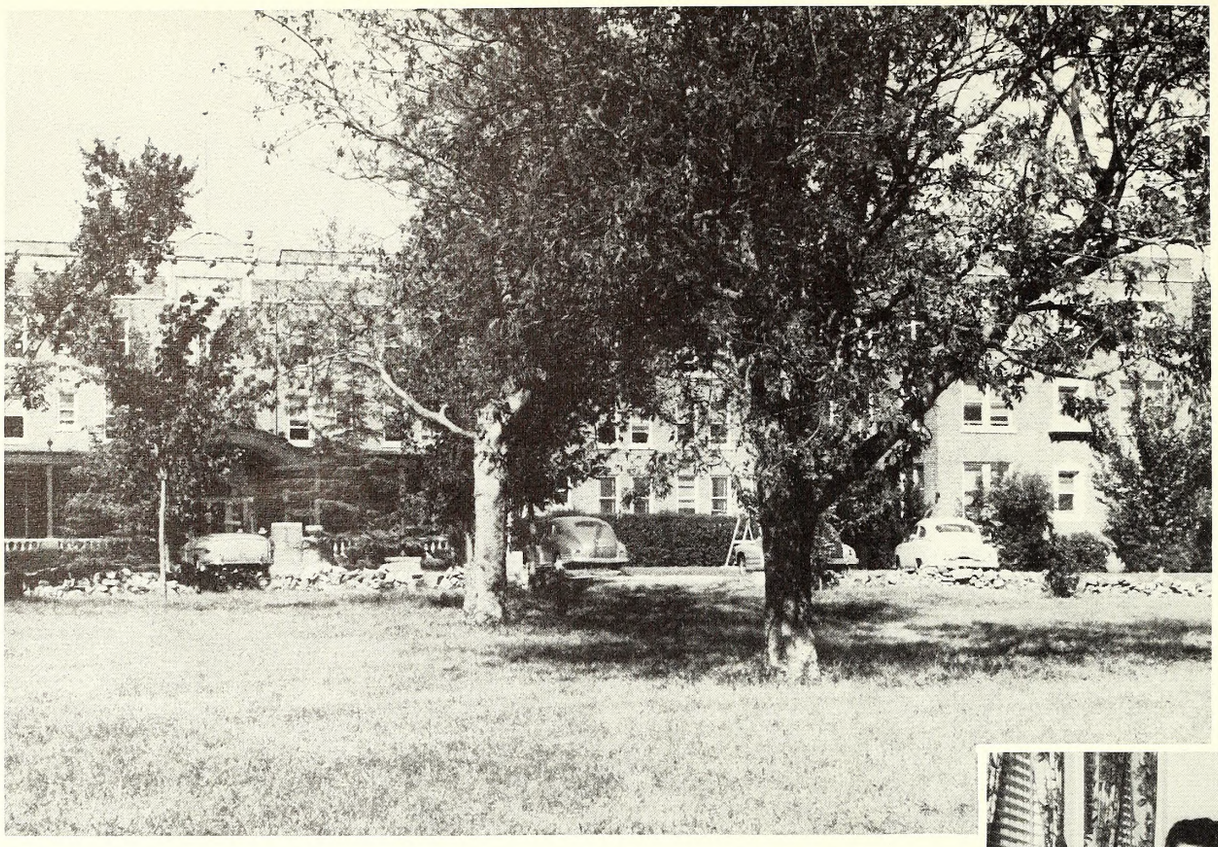

Longfellow once said, "The student has his Rome, his Florence, his whole glowing Italy within the four walls of his library." Surely he couldn't have been referring to a university library such as Cody Memorial, for students here find much more than Rome and Florence—Ah, yes! Those eight o'clock dates, of course. Some say the silence of this library is hampered only by the bright lights. Yet, not to be forgotten are those many hours spent here for searching and researching for those little gems, the thought twisters, our profs so aptly call themes.

A library is a luxurious necessity.

LAURA KUYKENDALL HALL . . .

WOMEN'S DORMITORY

This building is more than a dormitory to all the girls who live here during the school year. In here friendships are made that will last throughout life; memories are made that will last forever. Under the supervision of Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Williams, and Mrs. Bridges all the girls, at one time or another, have a longing to climb down one of the fire escapes or go through the front lobby in blue jeans. But this comes only to the senior girls on one certain day.

This building is visited by many, many boys here daily (and nightly) to gaze into the charming eyes of all those girls! If anyone is the envy of all the males on the campus it is certainly Doc, for he alone can pass through those halls without receiving demerits.

Kuykendall Hall is certainly the pride of the campus with its green spacious lawns and its beautifully scented rose bushes and, we must add, those softly illuminated evenings beneath the spotlights.

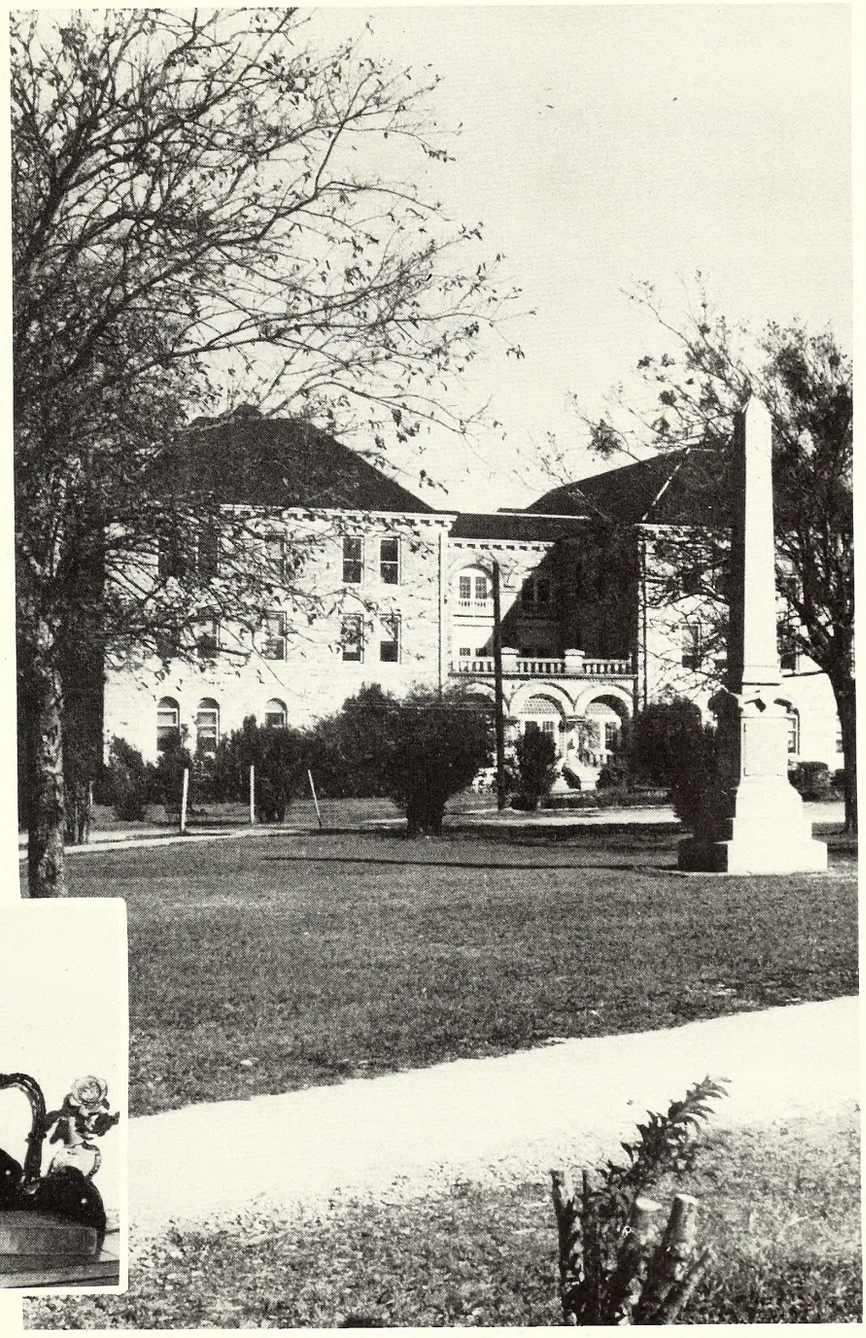

Matrons Smith, Williams, and Bridges probably discussing the outcome of the evening Canasta game.

MOOD HALL

MEN'S DORMITORY

Probably no other person on the campus is more prominent than Mrs. Margaret Cornwell, supervisor of Mood Hall. When a boy first comes to Southwestern the person that he first meets is Mrs. Cornwell, the beginning of his first campus friendship. To many of the boys she has been a mother away from home and has helped each one in some way or another. No person is more generous or lenient, and no one is more willing to help.

Probably more things have happened in this dorm than in any other building here, with activities ranging from studies, pep rallies, serenades, to pillow fights and track meets on the third floor and baseball games on the second. At least once the girls had an opportunity to come get the boys for dates here. No matter how long a boy stays here the time will never be forgotten.

Mrs. Cornwell as seen daily at her office desk.

The LOIS PERKINS CHAPEL

The most long-awaited event in recent Southwestern history — the building of our Chapel. The groundbreaking ceremonies were held on the spot where the altar is to stand, during one of the first regular chapel services at the first of the year. First to break the ground was Mrs. Score, wife of the late Dr. J. N. R. Score, former president of Southwestern; school officials then wielded the spade, then presidents of all the campus organizations.

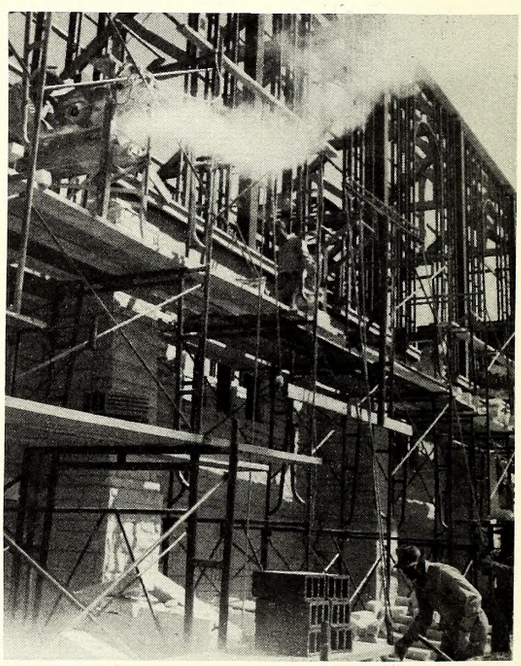

Each day students have watched it grow and mature into a graceful, stately building, one which may be seen and admired upon entering Georgetown from the hills, and one which will become an integral part of our school and Christian life. It is not yet completed, but will be when the seniors of 1951 are ready to walk down its aisles.

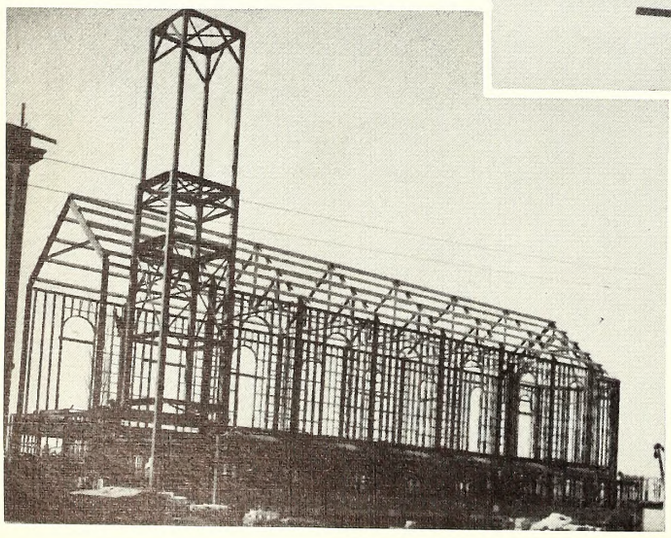

Mrs. Score, above, expertly breaks ground at Lois Perkins Chapel ceremonies.

Right: The Chapel under construction makes an interesting picture, and gives a promise of what is to be.

JIM WEST GYMNASIUM

At night the glow of the lights streaming through the spacious windows combined with the swells of yells resounding from within give life to the spirit and enthusiasm of the game of basketball. Not only basketball, but scores of games, boxing, volleyball, and all sorts of gymnastic feats keep the health and spirit of education on an even keel. There are no "dull Jacks" here.

THE SCIENCE BUILDING

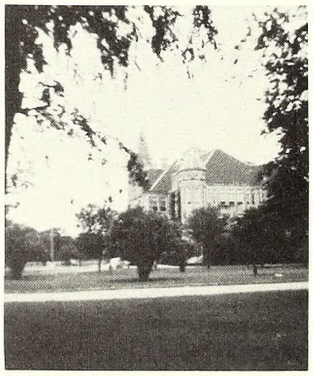

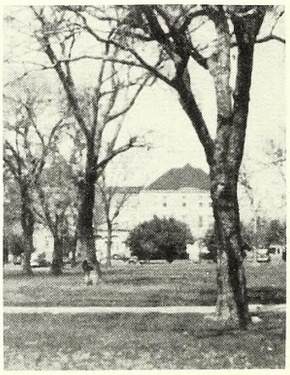

Condemned!
That is the fate of this fading building. To some eyes this will be a sad occasion, but oh, to the many never will there be a more glorifying sight.
It is true that this building has served many—and well, but as time passes the old must give
Short lived? Yes. But who will ever forget those tedious hours spent over a Bunsen burner, running unknown after unknown through its paces to please those faces of Dr. Godbey and Dr. Wannfried while others still labored through their physics problems.
And, if English never was a science, it is now, as Mrs. Geppert can well assure. But still—
Condemned!

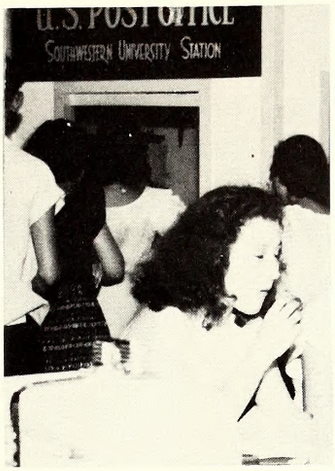

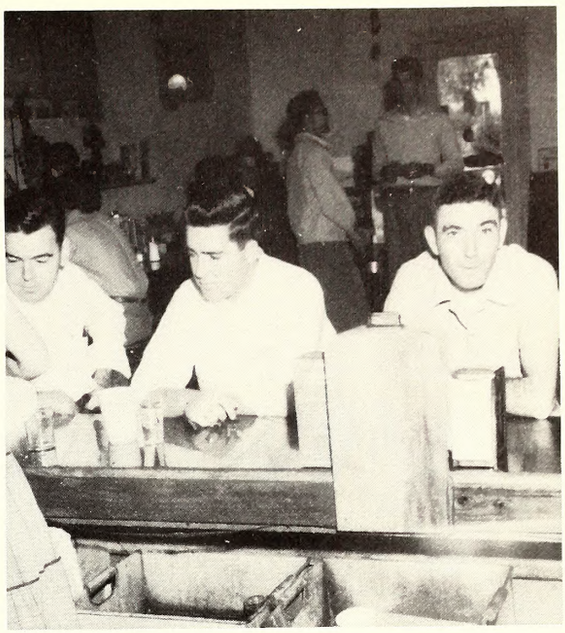

To the left is a view of the President's home with its cool green trees and large shady lawns.

Another view of the Ad building and Mood Hall.

"MAIL CALL"

"Duh, who, me!"— Joiner, in upper right picture.

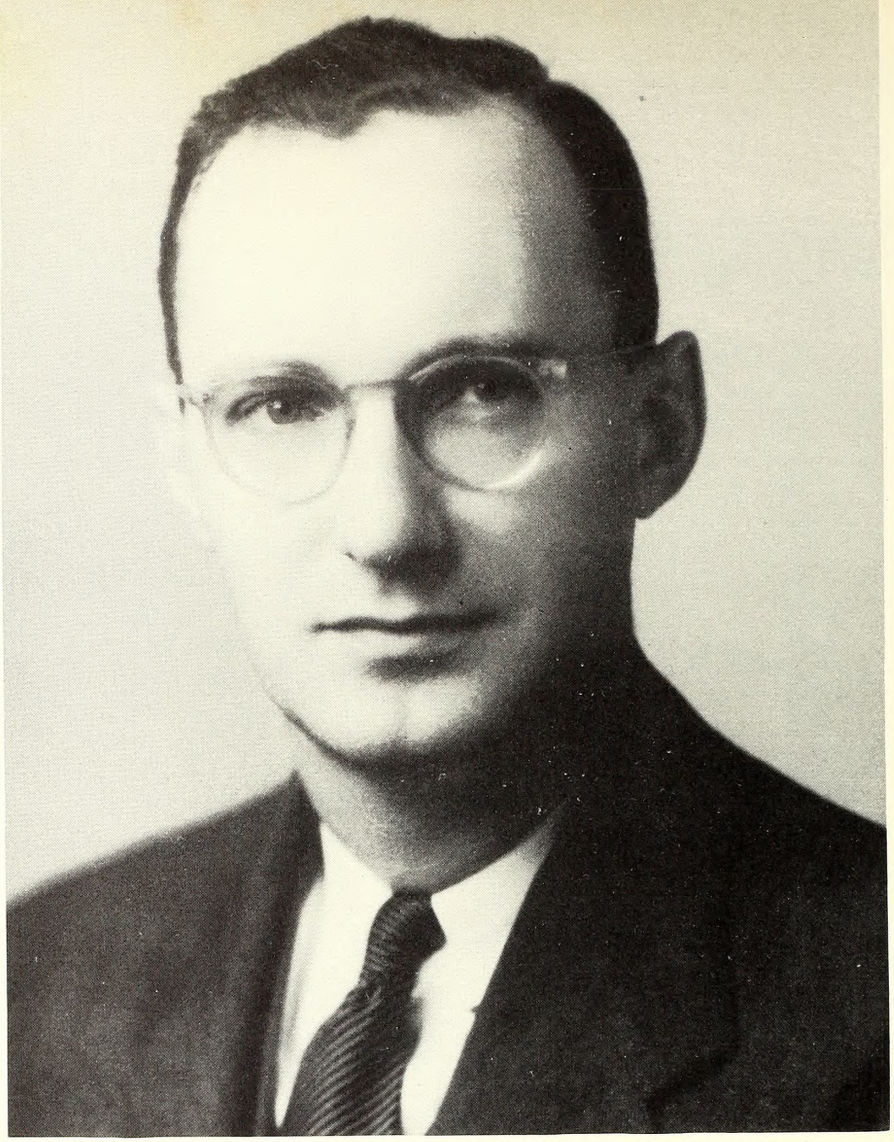

Push dat ball, lift dat machine, get a little rough and you land in— "Tilt!"

Time...

THE ADMINISTRATION

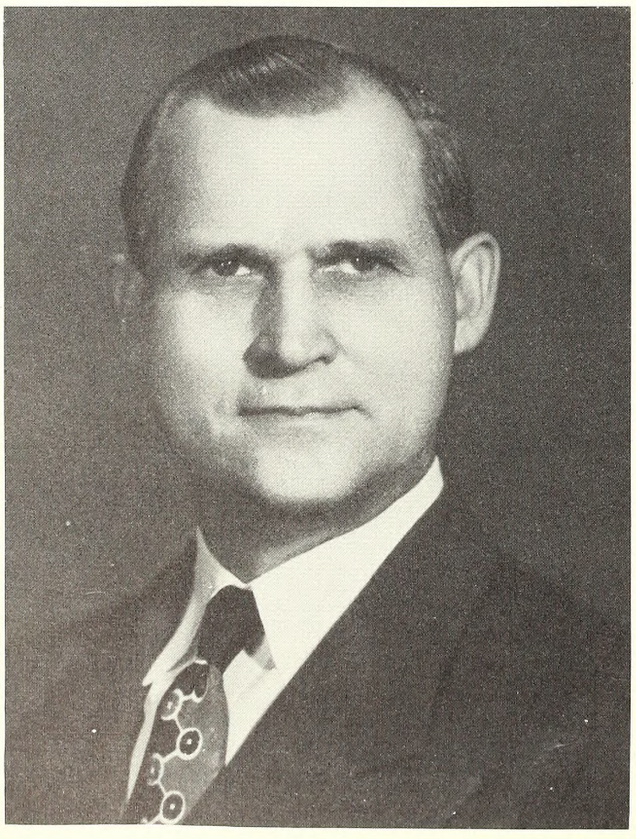

Southwestern University is an institution of the Methodist Church. It is governed by a Board of Trustees composed of twenty-five members, both ministers and laymen. These men are selected from the Texas Conferences as well as the New Mexico Conference. These members are elected by the Annual Conferences and have a term of office for four years. This board operates under the charter which was approved February 5, 1875. Since that time, however, there have been several revisions.

For more than a hundred years now, since its origin as Ruterville College in February, 1840, Southwestern has had as its ideal the development of Christian culture and character. The administration, as well as the faculty and every member connected with the University, adds its part to this goal of developing better men and women.

EDUCATION, ENGLISH, AND PSYCHOLOGY

These courses of study which some are pursuing are of a rather broad nature, being somewhat tedious in respects. Some prepare one for the teaching profession whereas the others are of a required nature. The English courses begin with the entrance exams, with the next step on the ladder to the degree being "O" English. Not to be forgotten is the Department of Journalism, which is the background for all of the school publications.

SCIENCES

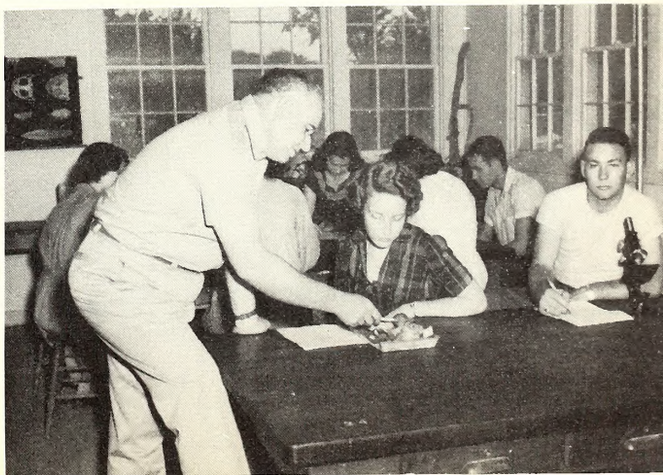

Students of science may groan about the long lab hours and girls may be a bit squeamish about dissecting dogfish, frogs, and the like; but when they have finished the varied courses, they will have a wide knowledge of the physical world and its properties.

Classes have met this year in the science building and temporary science facility, where there are many different cultures – bacteria, that is.

A science degree is the first step to medical school, the cherished goal of so many hundreds of young pre-med students today. Larger schools may offer a more direct path, but here at Southwestern the student, through hard work, as at a larger school, may also attain his goal and at the same time may have the privilege of close companionship and security that only a small school can give.

These professors offer their knowledge and experience in the hope that their students may advance in their particular fields to an even greater knowledge than the professors themselves embrace – which, after all, is the dream of every educator. And, we would venture to say that, like Dr. Godbey, they are "waiting for the new science building."

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

While all that some students learn to say in a foreign language is "Parlez-vous Francais?" or "Chevrolet Coupe" or "Du bist an Schtinkatz," the students of these teachers learn the rudiments of their particular chosen language, gain a knowledge of the country and its customs, and acquire through the study of another culture a wider understanding and a deeper appreciation of their own mode of living and speaking.

A large variety of courses is offered in each of these languages: Chinese, French, German, Greek (Classic), Greek (New Testament), Japanese, Latin, Russian, and Spanish. There are ample opportunities to major in any of these languages, and special linguistic courses are offered for foreign language majors.

Each of the instructors has studied or traveled in another country, thus bringing more directly to bear upon his classes the influence of another land. Miss Dauer studied at Elberfield, Germany, and Paris, France, and Dr. Patterson visited extensively in France.

Dr. Frederick Lenz did a great part of his work at Berlin, while Dr. Mali Lenz studied in Lausanne, Switzerland, Berlin, Marburg, and Hamburg, Germany.

Although Mr. McCoy has not studied in Mexico, he has absorbed so much atmosphere from our neighbor because of frequent visits that one would suspect he had lived there all his life.

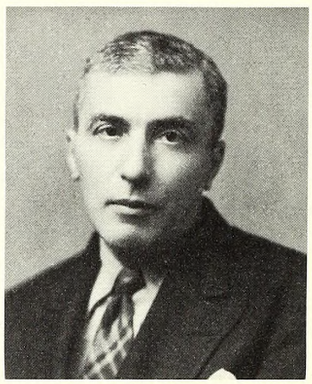

In the manner of travelogues we would say, "As the sun sinks slowly in the west, we bid farewell to the pagodas of China, the tall Eiffel spires of France, the watchtowers of Germany, the stately Doric columns of Greece, the mirrored bridges of Japan, St. Peter's square in Rome, the Kremlin in Moscow, and the soft stucco palaces of Spain and Mexico."

And in the time-honored phrase of so many romantic procrastinators, we shall say, "Manana!"

MUSIC

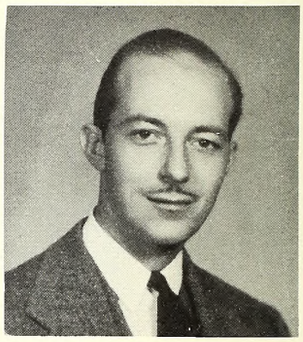

What can give so much joy to the aching human heart as music?

The fine arts students must find satisfaction for their souls to spend so much time on their work. And surely the reward is great for all music students to achieve their utmost accomplishment in their chosen field, whether it be in piano, organ, voice, or brass and wind instruments.

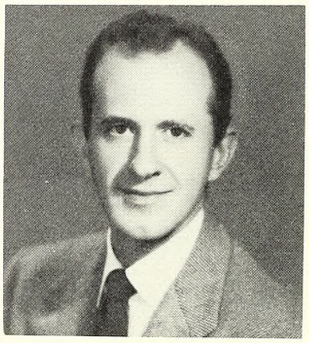

The student body is fortunate also, in that they may enjoy the fruits of the labor that goes on unendingly in the long white frame building near the president's house.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

This, the senior class of '50, has had a long and varied history, beginning as far back as 1946 when veterans started as freshmen. It picked up some members in '47 and even some stragglers from '45. This has been an eventful year for the seniors; many things have been accomplished, and those never-to-be-forgotten memories have already begun to find a place in their hearts.

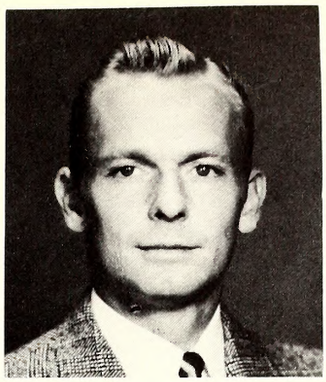

The senior take-off was the highlight of their year's activities — something many of them had waited for and plotted for, for a long time. But it certainly set a precedent, and succeeding classes will no doubt try to equal it.

Many outstanding seniors have taken their places in the Southwestern Halls of Fame. Senior recitals have been given, senior art shows, oral finals have been passed, and many have made a name for themselves in friendliness and in goodness on this campus.

Now they will go out into the world to find their security and happiness, the background for which they found here at Southwestern. May good luck precede them, and God be with them, and may they always hail their Alma Mater.

On the following pages are graduates of 1950, the largest class in Southwestern's history. (and the best!)

SO Hail THE CONQUERING HEROES!

So HAIL the conquering heroes! At last they made it — at last they are graduates!!! It took everything but a steam shovel to get them out of here, but through the combined efforts of the faculty and interested friends, they made it!

Now they are ready to meet the cruel world, which had better look out. A handshake, good luck, and Godspeed go with them always.

Highlighting the activities of the year for the junior class was a fine picnic held in the latter part of April. Juniors and their dates rode out to San Gabriel Park on a big truck, minus hay, so it couldn't be called a hayride. A baseball game — boys versus girls — built up appetites for supper. And what a supper!!! Barbecued beef, potato salad, red beans, and all the trimmings. A grand time was had by everyone.

The Juniors will have a hard row to hoe next year trying to live up to the accomplishments of this year's seniors, but we know they will try.

On the following pages are this year's Juniors, or the class of '51.

Virginia Spencer, Marlee Baker, Charlie Dennis.

The sophomores chose as their officers for the year the three smiling characters pictured above: Virginia Spencer, vice-president, Marlee Baker, secretary, and Charlie Dennis, president.

On December 10 the sophomores collaborated with the freshmen to give their annual all-school dance in Jim West Gymnasium. The gym was decorated with Christmas angels, boughs of evergreen, and real (well, almost real) snow. The dance provided an opportunity for the whole school to get together before the Christmas holidays.

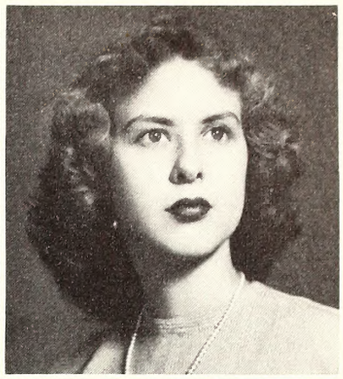

The sophomore year is perhaps the hardest year of all, for the students have just gotten over the uncertainty of being freshmen and must begin to make decisions about their course in life. Now, next year, it's forward march!

On the next pages are this year's Sophomores—

Ah, happy, carefree freshmen! Little do they know of what is before them — or maybe they do have an inkling after completing one year of college work. The phrase so often applied to freshmen — that "they have a long road ahead of them" — may be true, but along that road they will find pleasant days filled with satisfying study and rewarding companionships.

Next year they will be sophomores, and ready to build another step in the stairway leading to graduation. Climb the steps carefully but quickly, and do not stop to look behind you, lest you stumble. Look ever to the future, and there find your dreams.

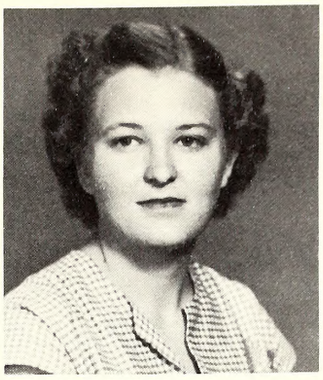

On the next pages are the freshmen of today, the seniors of 1953.

STUDENT SENATE

PRESIDENT: JAKE SHELLEY
VICE-PRESIDENT: JOHN FOSTER
SECRETARY: DORIS ANN BROWN

The Student Senate is Southwestern's functioning organization of student government. Members are nominated by each class and voted on by the respective classes in the spring. All nominees must be approved by the faculty.

The Senate meets regularly each week to discuss matters of importance to the student body and decide questions relating to student government problems. Their tireless efforts and determination to gain for the Southwestern students the advantages and opportunities available on larger campuses have met with high commendation and approval.

HONOR COUNCIL

Plans for an Honor Council at Southwestern originated with the Student Senate in the spring of 1948. The actual organization became effective in the fall of 1949, following a vote of the student body. Members of the Honor Council were and are nominated by the Student Senate, approved by the administration, and elected by the student body as a whole. This Honor Council is the first real step toward complete student government; it is progressing all the time.

The honor system at Southwestern is based on the principle that a student when placed on his honor will not violate this trust. Under this Honor Council, both students and faculty have certain responsibilities, and the Honor Council acts as co-ordinator and mediator. It acts as the judge of all charges made as a result of violation of the honor system. Certain changes may have to be made in order for it to function properly and adequately and fairly, but basically the student is placed on his honor to keep the code set up by the Council.

The Chairman of the Council is the Vice-President of the Student Association, this year John Foster. Membership of the Council consists of the Chairman, two members each from the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes, and two members from the Student Senate. Nancy Foster and Don Stockton are the representatives from the Senate, Frances Deckard and Yvonne Wilson are the representatives from the Senior class, Darlene Brucks and Albert Gore from the Junior class, and Nancy Roesler and Don Birely from the Sophomore class.

The members of the Honor Council have a responsibility not to be belittled; the success of the plan and the possibility of future extension of student government rests on them.

BLUE KEY

PRESIDENT: FRED SWITZER
VICE-PRESIDENT: JOE STANSELL
SECRETARY: GUY PRY
TREASURER: ELDON MAYS

The new members chosen this spring are Parker Folse, John Paul Schulz, Bobo Hardy, Jim Youngblood, John Walton, Art Pry, Curtis Ledbetter, Jimmy Snoga, Harold Reynolds, Dick Fly and Jerry Hardin.

Blue Key, established at Southwestern in 1948, is a national leadership fraternity for young men in colleges and universities. Its purpose is to foster leadership among students, encourage student activities, and act as a co-ordinator between students and faculty.

Since Blue Key first was organized here it has taken a vital interest in all campus functions. Comparable to the Cardinal Key organization for young women, it has already become one of the most capable organizations on the campus.

CARDINAL KEY

PRESIDENT: YVONNE WILSON
VICE-PRESIDENT: MARY LYNN WEBB
SECRETARY: DORIS ANN BROWN
TREASURER: BARBARA CANNON

The new members elected this spring are Marlee Baker, Alice Hallauer, Darlene Brucks, and Betty Lou Williams.
Cardinal Key is a national honor sorority for women leaders in colleges and universities. National Cardinal Key established a chapter here at Southwestern on May 14, 1948.

The major purposes of the organization are: to recognize achievement in scholarship and extra-curricular activities; to advance religion, patriotism, and service by affording training for leadership in the college community; and to develop character by application of the Cardinal virtues of living.

Cardinal Key corresponds to the Blue Key organization for men. Here at Southwestern it serves as an important link between students and faculty, and the work of Cardinal Key already has proven its worth many times over.

The Who's Who Among students in American Universities and Colleges is a national honor society for outstanding and representative students on American university and college campuses. Each year a secret faculty committee nominates certain such students from among the senior group for membership in Who's Who. These candidates are approved by Who's Who, and members are officially notified of their membership and honor.

Each year Who's Who publishes a book entitled WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, and it is in this volume that the honored students receive their prime recognition. Included in the volume are a brief biographical sketch of the student and also a sketch of the student's career. Membership in Who's Who is a significant honor highly prized by all college students, and Southwestern is extremely proud of its fine members.

Congratulations to these students who, because of their outstanding work, were chosen to WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES.

Alpha Chi originated at Southwestern as the Southwestern University Scholarship Society in 1915. Eventually this and similar honor societies became organized nationally, and the name was changed to Alpha Chi. Members of the Texas Alpha chapter, the local society, are elected from among the top or ranking tenth of the junior and senior classes. Its aims, according to the constitution, are stimulation, development, and recognition of scholarship and character. Membership in Alpha Chi is considered the highest scholastic honor that can be conferred upon a student at Southwestern.

SOUTHWESTERN LETTERMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Southwestern Lettermen's Association is an honorary organization composed of all men participating in Southwestern sports who are awarded letters at the end of the season. Lettermen are selected by the coaches on the basis of service, performance, and attitude; and those who receive letters well deserve them — and those who survive initiation into the Association deserve to be members.

The "S" Association promotes interest in sports, and stimulates men to increase their standards, thereby increasing the standards of Southwestern sports.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

MR. JOHN D. RICHARDS, DIRECTOR

Members of the A Cappella Choir are carefully picked by Mr. Richards, director of the choir. They must first sing with either the Girls' or the Men's Glee Club, before they may be eligible to try out for the A Cappella Choir. The Choir practices regularly every weekday except Thursday. Also, it sings for the chapel service held each week. The Southwestern A Cappella Choir is known throughout the state of Texas for quality of singing and excellence of performance. It has sung this year in over fifteen different towns and has made three separate tours, given a concert at the University of Texas, and here at Southwestern. At the crowning of Miss Southwestern the choir presented "Gallia" with the orchestra and Yvonne Wilson as soloist. Frances Deckard, Henry Holloway, Harold Reynolds, Darlene Brucks, Willis Kelly, Dick Fly, Beverly Hollingsworth, and Evelyn Deschner have also had solo parts with the choir this year. We of Southwestern feel that the A Cappella Choir deserves a special tribute for its fine work and superb musical achievement.

Mr. John D. Richards is also director of the Men's Glee Club and Women's Chorus, which are fine singing groups. Both have sung frequently here on the campus and boast quite a bit of enthusiasm among their members.

Southwestern is exceptionally proud of its musical organizations. Both students and faculty feel that the members of the Fine Arts Department make an invaluable contribution to Southwestern, and these music groups have become a basic and integral part of the school functions.

MEN'S CHORUS

The men's chorus has performed several times this year in assembly and chapel and has been very well received. A man must be a member of the chorus in order to be eligible for the A Cappella Choir.

The members of the chorus are not only well trained in singing but enjoy the good fellowship and pleasure that come from making music together.

The girls' chorus, not pictured, also participated in varried musical activities this year, the highlight of which was the program which was given for the graduating seniors at the First Methodist Church on the evening of May 28th. The chorus along with the University Sinfonietta quartet presented several selections in honor of the seniors.

DELTA OMICRON

PRESIDENT: FRANCES DECKARD
VICE-PRESIDENT: RUTH HUBBARD
SECRETARY-TREASURER: MARILYN DUSIK
CHORISTER: BARBARA CANNON.

Delta Omicron is a national professional music fraternity for women. The chapter on the Southwestern campus received its charter last year, on April 24, 1948. Thus it is a comparatively new addition to the Southwestern roster of organizations, but even in this short time it has taken its place among the prominent and valuable organizations on the campus.

The purpose of the fraternity is to foster musicianship among the women, create interest in American composers and musicians, create interest in local musical talent, and provide an opportunity for social fellowship for its members. To be initiated, girls must fulfill the standards and purposes maintained by Delta Omicron, and also maintain a certain average in school work and music work.

This spring, Delta Omicron presented some of its members in assembly, and gave a musical program that exemplifies the high ideals of the fraternity. Southwestern is proud of its chapter of Delta Omicron; and with such talent as has been displayed this year, there is no doubt that Delta Omicron will progress, enlarge, and become more and more valuable through the years.

SIGMA PHI ALPHA

PRESIDENT: GEORGE NELSON
VICE-PRESIDENT: HAROLD REYNOLDS
SECRETARY: FRANCES DECKARD

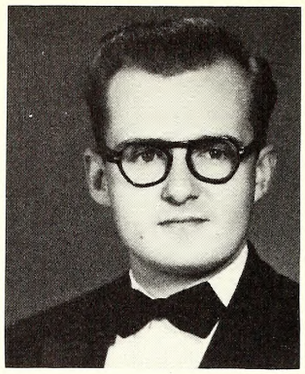

These students are charter members of Sigma Phi Alpha, fine arts honor society. The club is newly formed and was the old Mozart Society.

Membership is limited to students doing creative work in the fields of music, literature, drama, and art. Also members must be of junior or senior standing and must have at least an 85 overall average. It is a distinct honor to be chosen for Sigma Phi Alpha, and with the fine start it has made, its prestige will grow with the years.

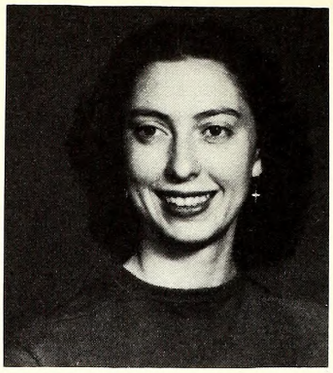

The faculty sponsor for Sigma Phi Alpha is Mr. Ralph Jones.

PI EPSILON DELTA

Pi Epsilon Delta is a national honorary dramatic fraternity. Its membership is restricted to juniors and seniors who have participated in two or more drama activities produced on the campus. Its chief aims are to stimulate interest in and raise dramatic standards and chievement through encourging the best individual and group efforts in play writing, acting, directing, costuming, stage technique, stage designing, research, and literature. Membership in Pi Epsilon Delta is considered one of the highest honors than can come to a drama student at Southwestern.

MASK AND WIG PLAYERS

The Mask and Wig Players is an organization of students interested in the study of the drama. Sponsored by Mr. Angus Springer, head of the Speech and Drama Department, Mask and Wig is open for membership at the beginning of each semester. Students become Associate Members upon joining and paying dues; and after they have obtained ten points through active service, they may become Active Members. The club now has thirty active members. The aim of the organization is to create student interest in drama, provide a practical study of drama, and serve as a source for presentation of famous and current plays.

Major productions this year were "The Late Christopher Bean," starring Ruth Lewis, Fred Switzer, and Nancy Medley; "Julius Caesar," starring Parker Folse, Jerry Hardin, Fred Switzer, and Norman Wahl; "The Rivals," starring Ruth Lewis, Clara Mae Blocksom, Fred Switzer, and Parker Folse; and "The Heiress," starring Clara Mae Blocksom, John McClish, and Jerry Hardin.

The Forensic Club is composed of students interested in the oratorical elements of speech, such as debate, after-dinner speaking, poetry-reading, declamating, and so on.

With the able direction and enthusiasm of sponsor Sam Raines, Forensic members were able to bring home several trophies from speech meets this year.

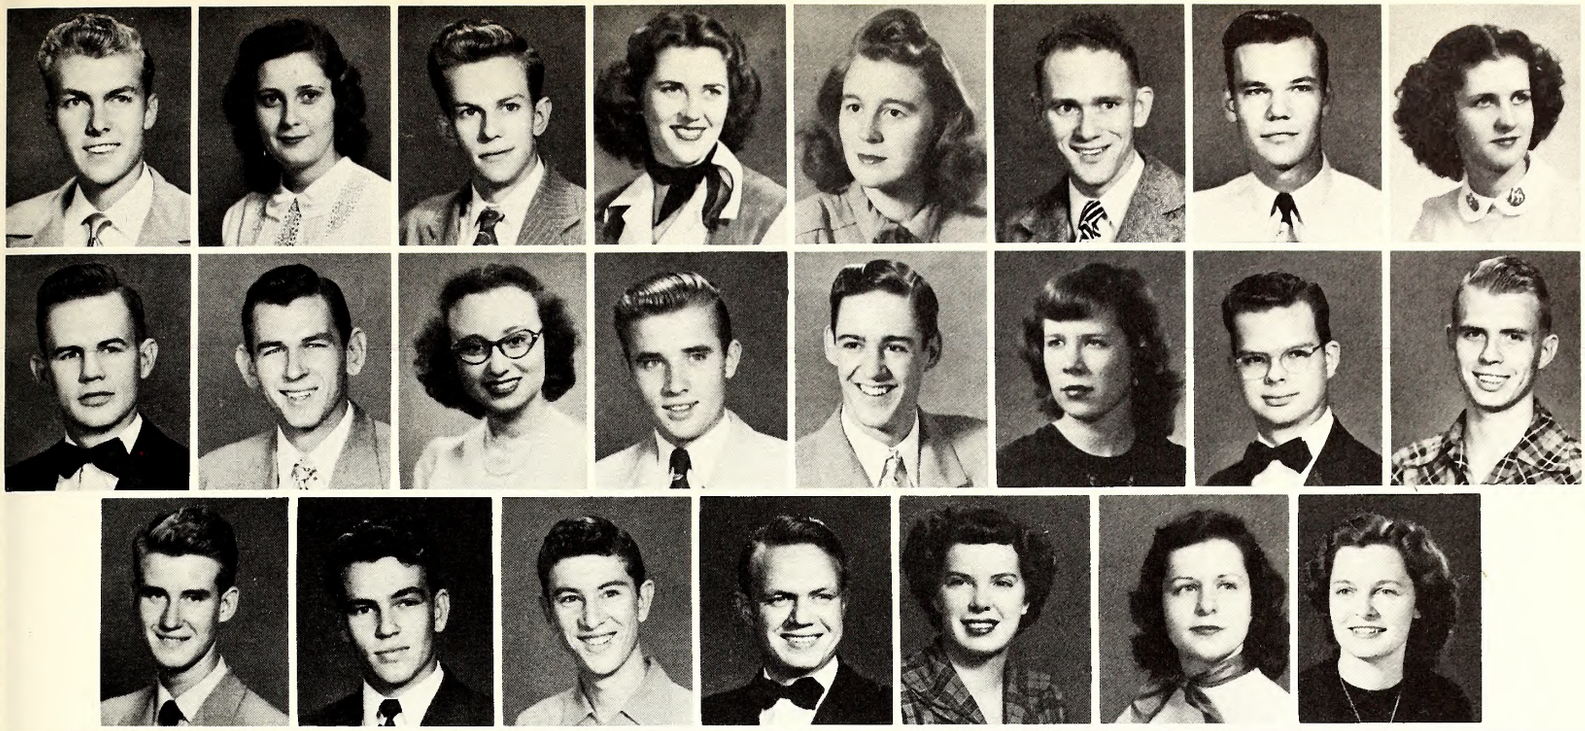

Although it is a young club, great interest has been shown, and we of Southwestern are looking for even more honors in their field in the years to come.

The Southwestern Science Society is an organization of advanced students who have achieved certain scholarship qualifications. One advanced course in Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Geology, or Mathematics is required, and a second course in one of these subjects must be in progress.

The Society was organized in 1918 by Dr. J. C. Godbey; the original organization being called the Southwestern Chemical Society. In 1926 Biology and Physics joined the organization and it became known as the Southwestern Science Society. Mathematics was included later and during the war (1942-43) Geology was also included.

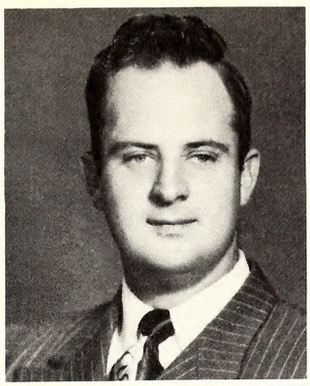

The purpose of the society is the promotion of the scientific spirit in the lives of individuals. Regular monthly meetings are held for programs and business. The society is active locally, and also attempts advancement of science in the State.

The Home Economics Club is an organization of girls especially interested in this field. Composed primarily of Home Economics students, it is, however, open to all girls who may wish to join. The club is both educational and social. At regular meetings talks by the girls themselves or special speakers deal with problems relating to the homemaking field. The purpose of the club is to increase interest in the study of home management, child care and development, and other similar problems. Also it provides stimulation of practical and social study of Home Economics. The club is one of the most enthusiastic on the campus.

This year Ruth McCain was elected as the ideal girl by the club. This is an honor which was bestowed the first time this year, and will continue to be a custom from now on.

The little Freshman

--HENRY RIEMENSCHNEIDER

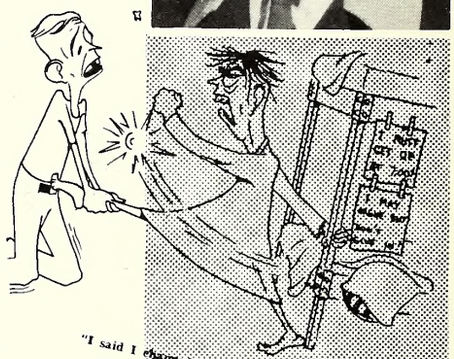

Once upon a time there was a little freshman. He was such a teeny weeny fish that nobody in the great big school where he was enrolled thought he was a very significant somebody; so from the very first day of the Fall Semester he was ignored. Who would have dreamed what big ideas went through the head of such a SMALL person as he? The Seniors were such grand personages that they forever walked with their heads high in the clouds and did they know that there was anyone on their campus like the little Freshman? No. The Juniors were almost Seniors so they walked with their heads high in the clouds, too; and did THEY know there was any such person as little Freshman on their campus? No. The S mores were no longer Freshmen, so, you see, hardly ever looked anywhere but up, unless i down their noses. Did the Sophomores know ther anybody like the little Freshman walking on campus? No. The little Freshman was all alo he was VERY sad.

Then, one day, the little Freshman deci would do something big in his school that woul them all take notice of him and then they woul how wonderful person he really was. He wo respect f ors and homage from the and iration foam all the would be for him! H would be sung i after at the be

Coach Collins is a native of Breckenridge and is a graduate of the University of Texas where he was a star guard and blocking back. He is a Marine Corps veteran.

Coach Pottenger came to Southwestern in 1949 from Carthage, Missouri, Hi School where he had coached for 2 years. Pottenger is a graduate of Southwest Missouri Teachers College.

Coach Ted Bare is a recent Southwestern graduate and all-time S.U. gridiron great. He lettered three years at Southwestern as an end and was an outstanding basketball player.

FOOTBALL SEASON 1949

Following Southwestern's strong showing in 1948 with a comparatively green team winning 6 out of 9 games, pre-season dope for 1949 had Southwestern picked to finish high in Texas Conference standings.

However, it was only after the Buccaneers spent the first 8 games of their 10 tilt schedule floundering around and winning only two non-conference starts while dropping 3 straight in conference play that they finally came to life; against A&I at Homecoming.

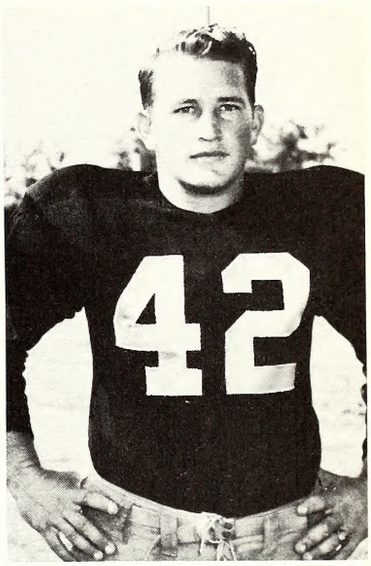

A complete account of the full season follows.

S.U. 0 — S'WEST TEXAS 0

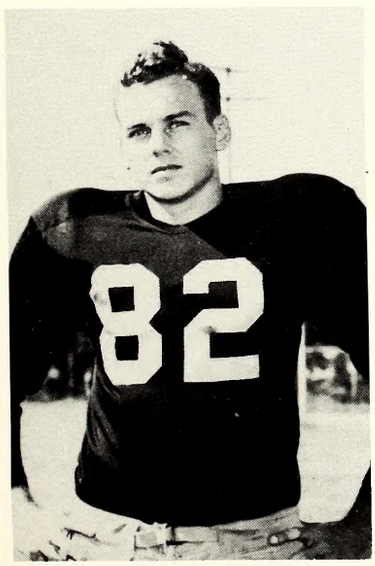

1949's opening encounter matched the Pirates with the Southwest Texas State Bobcats, 1948 winners of the Lone Star Conference. Although the game ended in a nothing to nothing score, Southwestern backers felt that their club had played well for a season opener. The Pirates blew two good scoring chances, while holding the Cats almost gainless.

S.U. 0 — SAM HOUSTON STATE 6

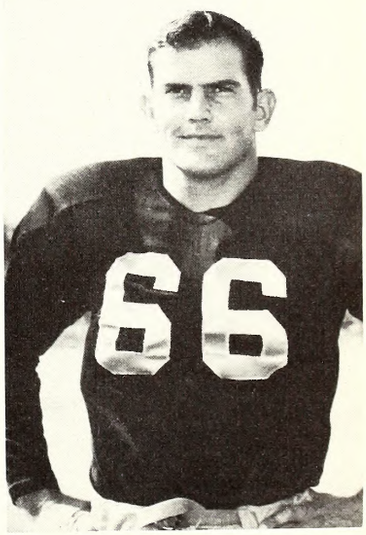

In the young season's second tilt, the Pirates met the Sam Houston Bearcats in Huntsville. The Cats had not previously won a game in 12 starts, but aided by inept Southwestern play, and the sterling performance of Little All America end Roughhouse Williams collected a one touchdown lead and were not to be overtaken.

S.U. 0 — LOUISIANA TECH 20

A week after the Sam Houston game, the Pirates, still on the road, traveled to Ruston, La., to meet the very strong Lousiana Tech club. The Webfeet sported the classiest running and passing game that the Southwesterners faced all season, and ran away with a game that was hardly a contest after the first half.

S.U. 10 — ABILENE CHRISTIAN 13

In their first conference start of the year, the Bucs met the ACC Wildcats in Abilene. The Wildcats, always tough on their home field, proved too much for a game group of Pirates.

However, the first half was all Southwestern as the Pirates seemed destined to start the comeback trail. They tallied their first two scores of the year that first half, a field goal, and touchdown, to lead 10-0.

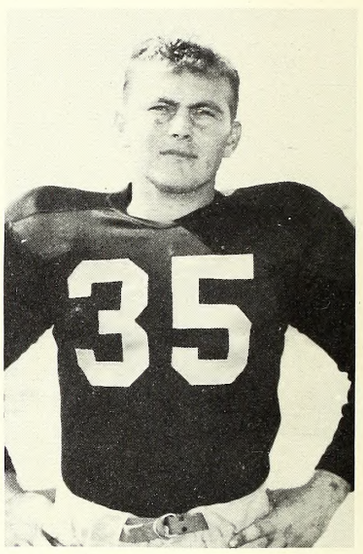

But not to be denied in the fatal second half, the Wildcats roared back to score two quick game-winning touchdowns.

S.U. 28 — DANIEL BAKER 0

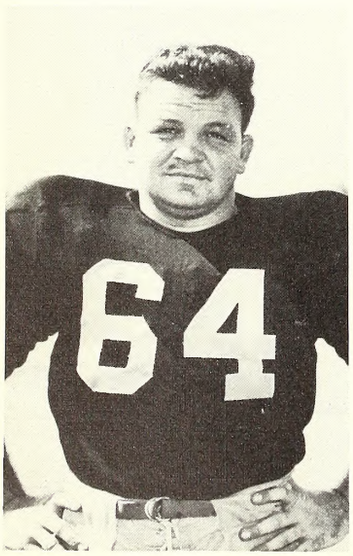

Returning to home soil the following week, the Pirates shellacked the out-manned Daniel Baker Hillbillies 28-0. The Billies were never in the game, and with this win, Southwestern supporters hoped for a continued winning streak.

S.U. 7 — HOWARD PAYNE 20

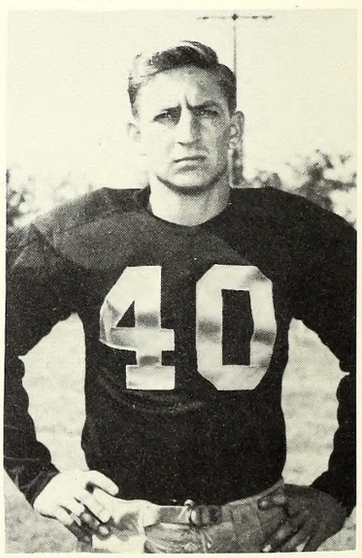

Southwestern met strong Howard Payne in Brownwood the next Saturday, and came home on the short end of a 20-7 score. This was the Pirates' second consecutive conference loss, and was marred by apparently disinterested Buc play. Only redeeming feature of the tilt for S.U. partisans was a brief period in the second half, when Marvin Gray and Leo Chafin entered the game to spark the Southwesterner's touchdown drive.

S.U. 6 — EAST TEXAS BAPTIST 20

The Howard Payne defeat seemed to break the Pirates' back and they returned to Snyder field to hit rock bottom against the Baptists in a listless two-touchdown defeat.

S.U. 0 — AUSTIN COLLEGE 28

In this one played in Sherman, the Bucs took their most outscored loss of the year. Apparently stunned by the East Texas defeat they were completely outplayed. Austin College's flying circus was too much for the Pirate secondary, and when the Bucs pulled linemen into the backfield in a vain attempt to break up the passing game, Austin College backs literally paraded through gaping holes in the line.

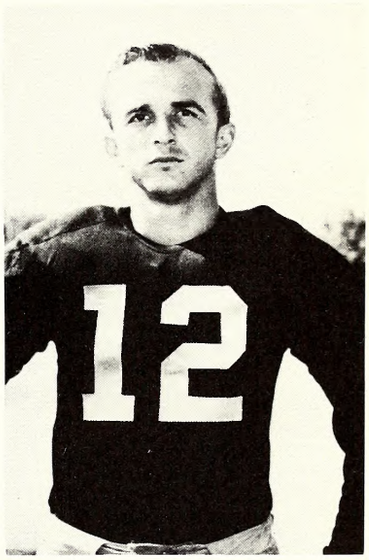

S.U. 3 — A&I 7

Bouncing back at Homecoming, when they seemed down for the long count, the Pirates almost took this one out of the fire on the strength of a second quarter field goal into a strong north wind, with Frank White doing the booting.

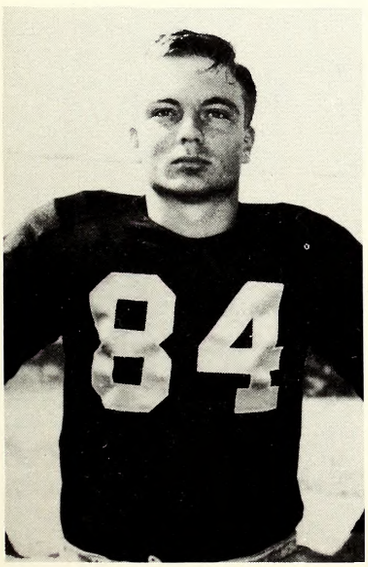

During the last quarter the Javelinas began a desperation passing game. An almost unavoidable interference penalty ruled against the Southwestern secondary gave the visitors the ball on the one-yard line and they scored on the next play, then added an extra point to end the scoring.

S.U. 20 — McMURRY 20

This tie is for the record books. In the final regularly scheduled game of the year, Southwestern met the mighty McMurry Indians on Georgetown's Snyder Field. The Indians, already Conference Champions, boasted three potential Little All Americans in halfback Brad Rowland, fullback Floyd Sampson, and giant end Les Cowan. Halfback Marvin Gray of the Pirates stole the night's show, however, as he personally led the Bucs to their tie. Southwestern spotted McMurry 14 points before they ever started a scoring drive, but Gray's slashing, driving, running, and outstanding passing, plus the goal-line drive of Kelley Burkhardt brought the Pirates back into the game and enabled them to tie 20-20.

S.U. 47 — MEXICO CITY COLLEGE 6

Invited to play a post-season game against the Mexico City College Aztecs, the Champions of all Mexico, the Bucs traveled all the way to Mexico City, as guests of the Aztecs and returned hospitality by shellacking the Mexican team 47-6.

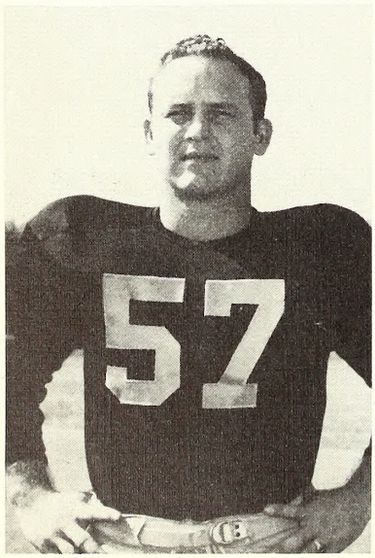

S.U. 20 — AUSTIN EXES 7

For a season finale, the Pirates were invited to play a team made up of ex-Austin Hi gridsters in Austin's House park. The Austin club developed into both an ex-Maroon and ex-University of Texas club, while Southwestern enlisted the services of coaches Collins, Bare, and Pottenger.

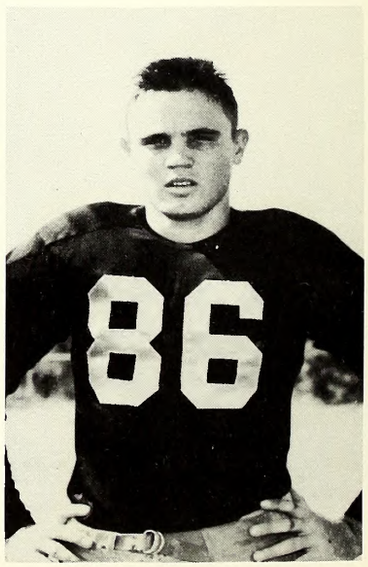

The game was played in a sea of mud, left after heavy fall rains, but was an interesting encounter with all three S.U. coaches and halfback Leo Chafin adding up to the margin of difference.

INDEPENDENT GLOBE SPOTTERS BASEBALL TEAM

Pictured on the left are members of the Globespotters baseball team, winners of the first round robin. If the team is successful in the tournament to be played following the round robin, they will be the winners of the intramural athletic trophy due to their winning in both basketball and baseball.

The team was not defeated nor tied.

GIRLS

TRI DELT BASKETBALL TEAM

Pictured on the right are members of the Tri Delt basketball team that completed the season untied and undefeated, making them basketball champions.

The team turned in one of the best games of the season when they successfully edged a strong Barb team by a two-point margin in the last seconds of play. Their teamwork and long shot success brought them the nod, their last-half rally paying off with a win and the championship.

Taking advantage of good serving, the team evidenced a team work pattern that did much to put them in the championship slot.

INDEPENDENT BASE BALL TEAM

Pictured on the right are members of the Independent baseball team that was leading scorer at press time. Based on the first two games that time permitted to be tabulated before the last deadline passed, the Barbs had amassed more than twice the amount of points of their closest rival, the A. D. Pi's. The Barbs scored 50 runs while allowing 4 as compared to only 23 runs by the A.D.Pi's who allowed 9 scores by their opponents.

If the Independents maintain their lead for the remainder of the baseball season, they will win the intramural trophy by virtue of winning both the volley ball and baseball tournaments.

MISS SOUTHWESTERN

Miss Southwestern – the highest honor that can come to any girl here at Southwestern University. She embodies all the ideals which the school holds for all its young women. She possesses strength of character, stands for Christian principles, has better-than-average scholastic standing, is active in all phases of campus life, and perhaps most important of all, is loved and respected by the faculty and by her fellow students.

Here Doris Ann Brown, our Miss Southwestern, clad in the traditional white dress, gold mantle, and carrying yellow roses, all symbolical of the high honor she has attained, is crowned by Dr. William C. Finch, president.

Prince Parker Folse, in the background, watches the ceremony.

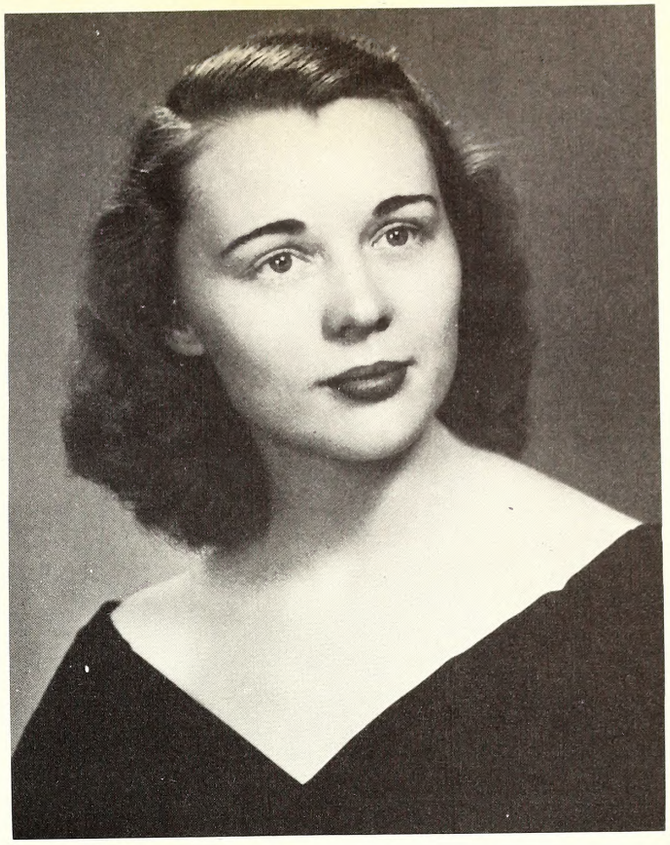

The Ad Building and D. A. – one a landmark, and the other almost a tradition in herself!

D. A., of the friendly smile, the genuine winning personality, and the ever-present willingness to help others.

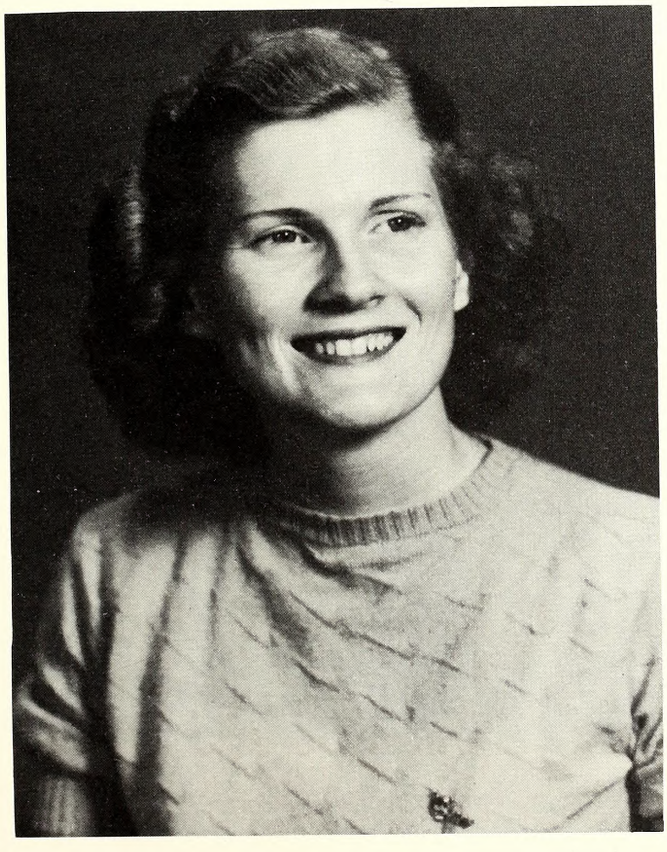

Southwestern is the better for her, and she has left an example in living that should well be followed.

BEAUTY REVUE

The beauties of Southwestern University were nominated by the fraternities, sororities, and the Independent Organization. The nominees were judged in the Library Auditorium by State Representative Peppy Blount, Walter (Booster) Bremond, and Bob Phillips; following the judging a reception was held in the library foyer.

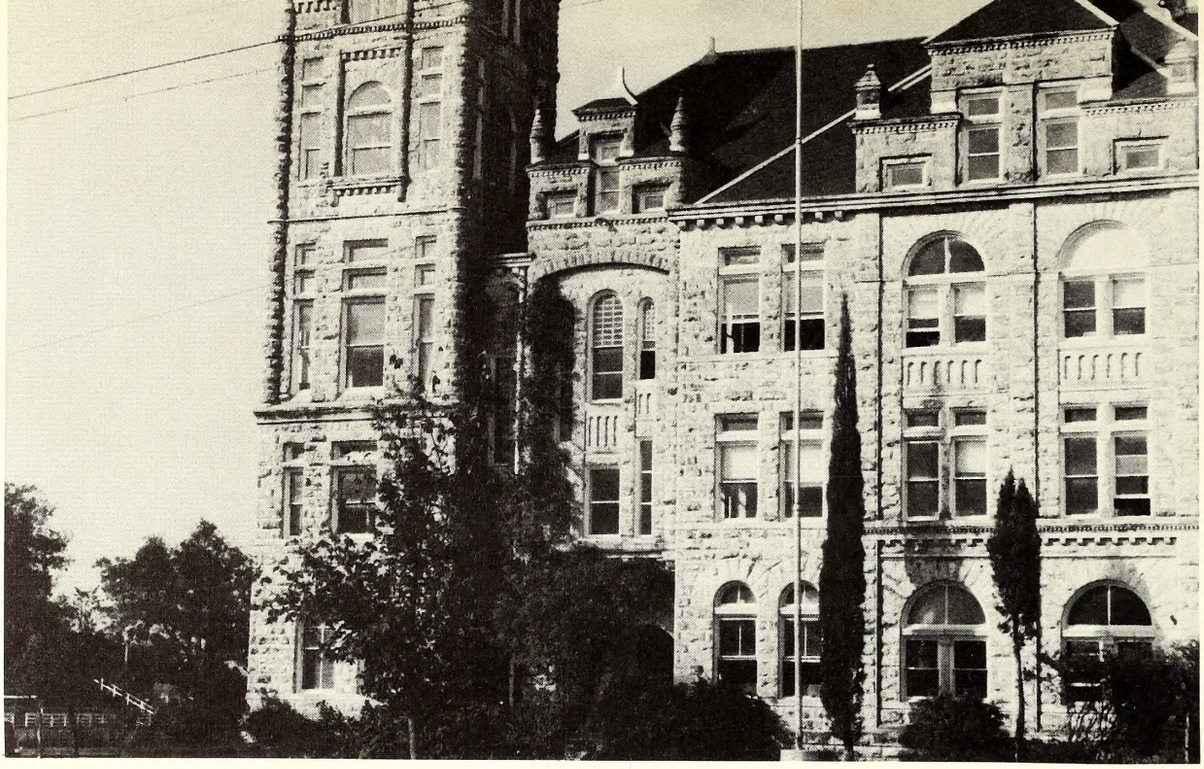

The beauties were presented on Saturday night in the colorful Southwestern Variety Show and Beauty Revue sponsored by the annual. Peppy Blount emceed the two-hour program which included skits from various organizations; the evening was livened hilariously by Peppy's impromptu comments.

The presentation of the chosen beauties climaxed one of the most eventful programs of the year.

Proud thanks are due the preceding beauties for their cooperation.

Dime

Another year has passed and between its coming and going many occurrences of international, national, state, and local significance have taken place. In many parts of the world strife and conflict have run their course, new discoveries and inventions which can bring life or death have made their appearance, men have lived and men have died, and this old planet on which we live has continued on its whirling course through space. For many this year at Southwestern has been a happy one so why don't we turn back the pages of time, say to September of 1949, and catch a brief glimpse of the happenings on our campus, events which stand out to us during the past year.

What freshman can ever forget his first look at the Administration Building (above) with its strong, time-defying look of solidity. Little did he know that soon, within those weatherworn walls, he would be racking his brain, seeking the right answers to the many questions which his teachers were asking. But, such is life. He or she was happy. At last he was through with high school and now he could settle down to the glorious, care-free life of a college man or woman.

Do you remember the Freshman Party, with its sing-song and Mr. Springer's humorous readings, or Registration Day, with its cards, forms, rain, and lines, lines, lines. First you had to go here, then someone sent you there, and just about every place you went — someone got there ahead of you. It's kinda hard to forget, isn't it.

Cardinal Key and Blue Key supplied information of various types to the bewildered freshmen and others who needed it on R-day. Fred Switzer is seen (right) handing out seniorly advice to Melanie Williams while Jerry Hardin is debating whether or not it is the right info.

Will it never end? That seems to be the general consensus of opinion as Ted Bare, Mrs. Geppert, Dean Ferguson, Dr. Burton, Miss Taylor, Dr. Patterson, etc., all keep signing students up. Barbara Dunn looks as if she is about ready to give up and go home.

A few days later came the annual Faculty Reception. All the boys and girls put on their best bib and tucker, formed lines again, and started to become acquainted with the members of the faculty and each other. The young ladies sure looked mighty pretty in their dress-up clothes and a good time was had by all.

The fabulous, sleep-losing "Rush Week" came round and the rush was truly on. The frosh were wined, dined, and entertained like mad. They really enjoyed it. But the worn-out upperclassmen who gave the parties enjoyed sleeping most of all. At right, the PIKAs' are giving Dick Thomas the full treatment while at lower right the Kappa Sigs are putting on a show for the people.

At lower right the boys of Kappa Alpha give out with a big grin for the photographer (Harper McGee, no doubt). The rushees are Syd Cole and Hyman Fortinberry and Frank Severn, Bill Higgins, Buddy Lawhorn, Harold Leatherwood, Paul Baker, Marvin Gray, Charlie Guinn, Slim Avant, and Lee Folse.

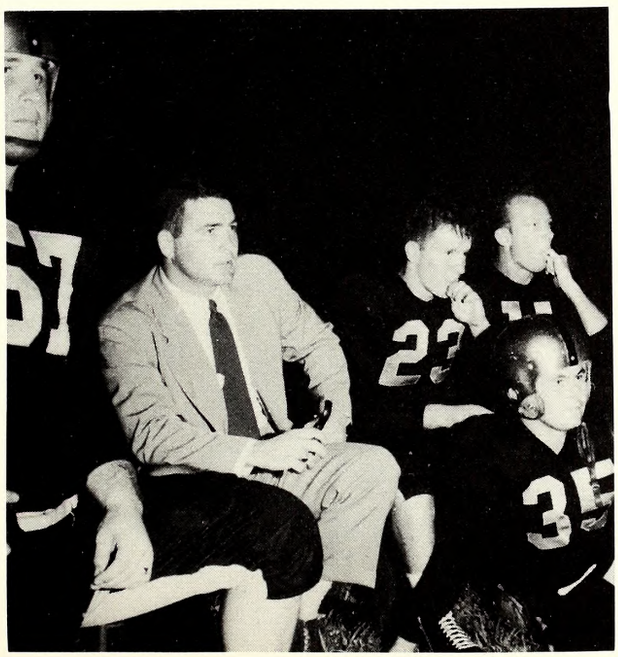

With the beginning of school and the advent of Fall, the students of Southwestern naturally got the fever — Football Fever, that is. The Black and Gold fielded a good, strong team and the spirit and enthusiasm ran high. However, as fate sometime wills, a combination of hard luck, bad breaks, and other factors added up to a losing football team, and with the loses the spirit of the supporters waned. Then Old Dame Fortune and a fighting spirit began to assert themselves and the Pirate Footballers fought the powerful Texas A and I Javalinas to a standstill in a fine Homecoming Game before being edged by the score of 7 to 3. The following week the Pirates really came into their own and closed out the season successfully by going into the McMurry game as 50-point underdogs and coming out with a 20-20 tie.

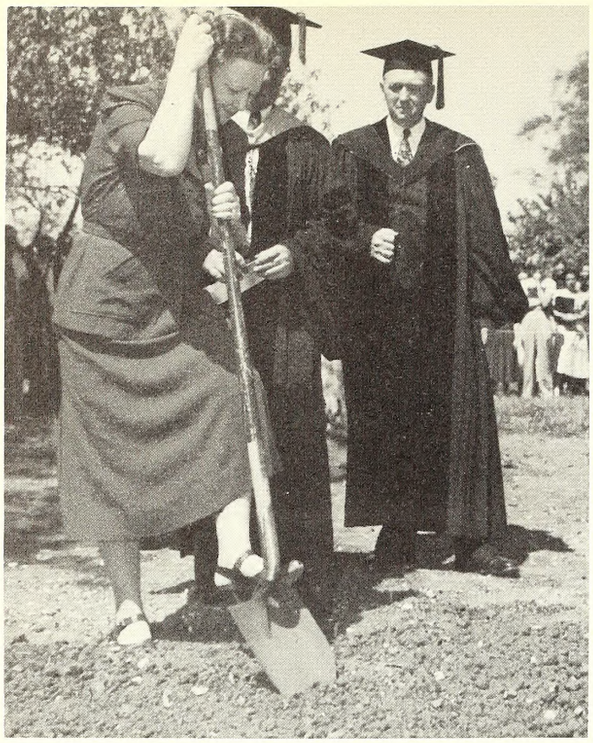

Shown above are two Pirates very successfully applying a "tight squeeze" to a Javalina in the A. and I. game, with two more Bucs rushing up to give some aid which wasn't needed.

From all those anxious faces at right it would seem that the pressure is on the Pirate goal-line, although Beryl Kermeth seems to be more interested in food at the moment.

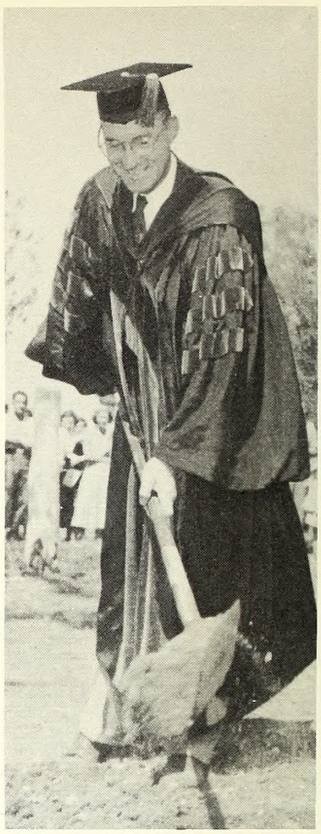

At left, Coach "Spot" Collins and some of the boys are really concentrating on the gridiron. Gene White, Frank White, "Pooch" Pearson, and Terrell Allen look a little worried. In fact, Terrell looks like he's just about ready to chew off a finger. It's possible, though, that he had blueberry pie for supper and is still trying to get rid of the seeds.

Right — Dr. W. C. Finch, then administrative Assistant and now President of the University, takes his turn with the spade.

Lower right — Jake Shelley, Student Body president, lifts his quota of dirt, to be followed by members of the student body organizations and the campus leaders.

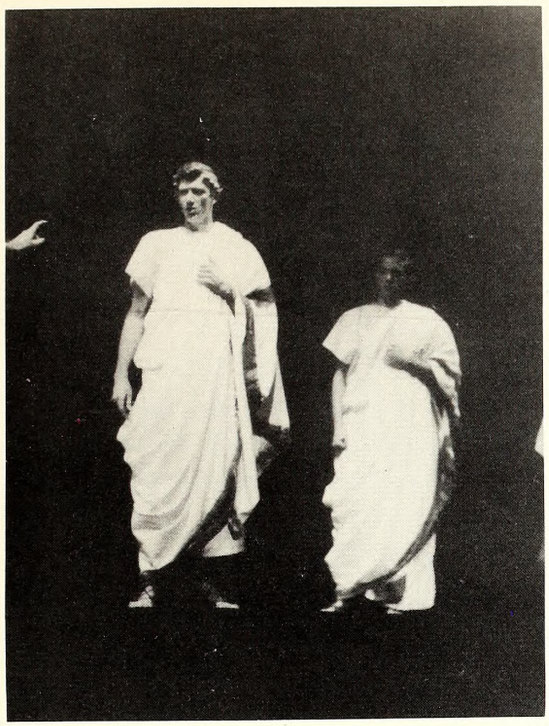

In October of 1949 an event occurred on the campus which will long be remembered, for it was on this day that the students of Southwestern University wended their way to a spot behind the old Science Building and there participated in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the Lois Craddock Perkins Chapel. This momentous event was the first step in the plans for a Greater Southwestern.

Presiding over the gathering was Administrative Assistant Dr. William C. Finch. Mrs. J. N. R. Score, representing Dr. Score, turned over the first shovelful of dirt and was followed in this happy task by members of the faculty and representatives of the various student body organizations.

The University A Cappella Choir lent the impressiveness of its collective voices to the proceedings and the solemnity and beauty of the program made it a day which will not soon be forgotten.

An unidentified hand points toward Parker Folse, who played the title role in the Players' production of "Julius Caesar." Fred Switzer backs him up as Marc Anthony.

At right, a scene from the Mask and Wig production of "The Late Christopher Bean," with Geraldine Luter and Fred Switzer looking on as Eddie Silliman examines a picture.

The drama lovers of the University can probably remember these scenes from two of the productions of Angus Springer's Mask and Wig Players for the '49-'50 season. First came "The Late Christopher Bean," which was followed by W. Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar." Next on the agenda came R. B. Sheridan's famous comedy, "The Rivals," presented in the theatre-in-the-round. The finale of the season was a presentation of the Broadway hit, "The Heiress," which was one of the best productions seen on the Southwestern stage in a long time.

The annual best acting awards for the year, presented by Mr. Springer, went to Ruth Lewis, Clara Mae Blocksom, Nancy Medley, Jerry Hardin, Fred Switzer, and John McClish.

One of S.U.'s finest character actresses, Ruth Lewis, is shown giving Winona Terry some sound advice in the play, "The Late Christopher Bean," which was presented in the "Theatre-in-the-Round."

Below is another scene from the Mask and Wig Players' presentation of "Julius Caesar." Shown around the body of Brutus (Norman Wahl) are John Wiggins, Joe Bert Sissom, Fred Switzer, and Bill Campbell.

Time is running short, so a brief summary of the major events from Homecoming to graduation must, of necessity, ensue. In November eleven seniors of the university were named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, Cardinal and Blue Key elected 10 students to their membership, the Attorney General of Texas, Price Daniels, spoke to the student body, the Pirates rose from the depths to tie mighty McMurry 20-20, the Volleyball All-Stars handed the champion Tri-Delts a 33 to 19 licking and the Arts and Sciences faculty members battled it out with the Fine Arts faculty in a set-to of volleyball.

In December, the Pirates journeyed to Mexico City and walloped the South of the Border gridders 47-6, several students went to Mineral Wells for the Texas Methodist Students Conference, the Southwestern Debate Team made a fine showing at the University of Texas Debate Festival, the traditional, beautiful Christmas Carol Service was held, under the direction of Dean Ferguson, and Christmas and New Year came, with a welcome vacation for all.

In January Mr. McCoy and his Spanish students took a field trip to S.A., the Pirate cagers started playing in earnest, a name was selected for the Megaphone gossip column, the Speech, Drama, and Journalism Departments held a Conference which was attended by students from several Texas high schools, Judgment Day (with one "e") arrived and final exams were held, Barbara Gratz and Dan Parmlee exchanged wedding vows, etc.

In February Southwestern celebrated its 110th birthday, the all-school Variety Show and Beauty Revue was held, with Phyllis Taylor winning top beauty honors, and the Kappa Phis celebrated Founders' Day.

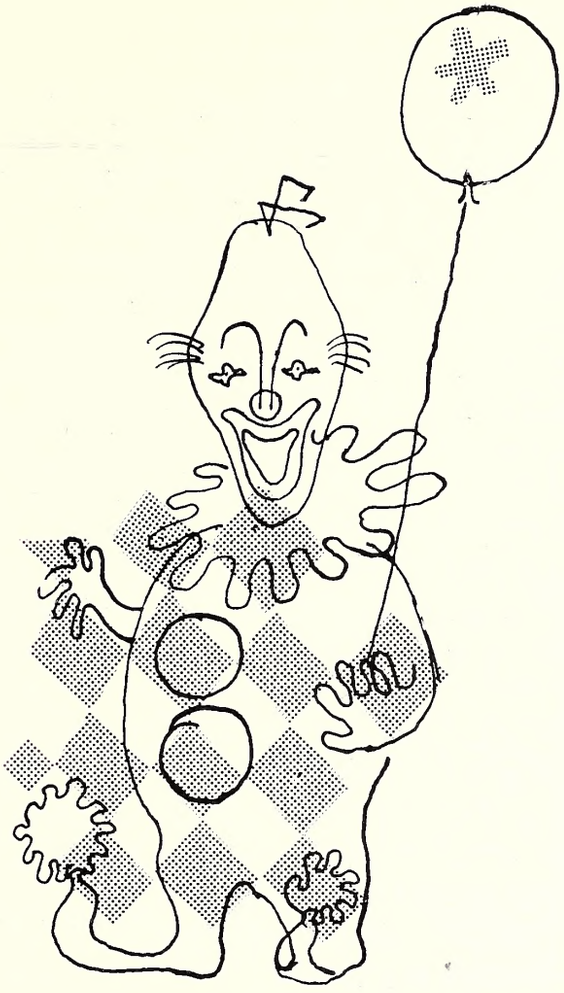

In March Dr. Eric W. Baker of London, England, delivered the third of the Willson Lectures, Charles Fromer, as usual, headed the Fall Distinction List, and five senior girls were nominated for Miss Southwestern, and D. A. Brown was elected in a run-off with Yvonne Wilson.

In April came the "Mugafoam," the Lois Perkins Chapel continued its steady climb, Dr. Finch was elected President of the University, the baseball team was really going to town, Mary Lynn Webb won a Danforth Award, the Faculty-Senior Takeoff was a huge success, as was the Sadie Hawkins Dance, and Albert Gore, Kelly Burkhart, and Marlee Baker were elected to the top Student Associations for next year.

In May Alpha Phi Omega, "The Heiress," and a "Fish story from Finch" came to the campus, the most successful "Weekend at College" and the coronation of Miss Southwestern were held, finals came and the 1950 graduates received their diplomas, to bring a fine year to an end.

HOME COMING

The 1949 Homecoming was, according to everybody concerned, GREAT. The University Intermural Sing, The Goethe Celebration, the Bonfire and Pep Rally, the Homecoming Parade, the barbecue dinner, a wonderful football game, and a big Homecoming Dance all added up to a mighty fine time. A lot of credit should go to Mr. Knox and the Homecoming Committee for a job well done. Pictures on the two pages following will give you a good idea of the work and play which made this one of the best of all S.U. Homecomings.

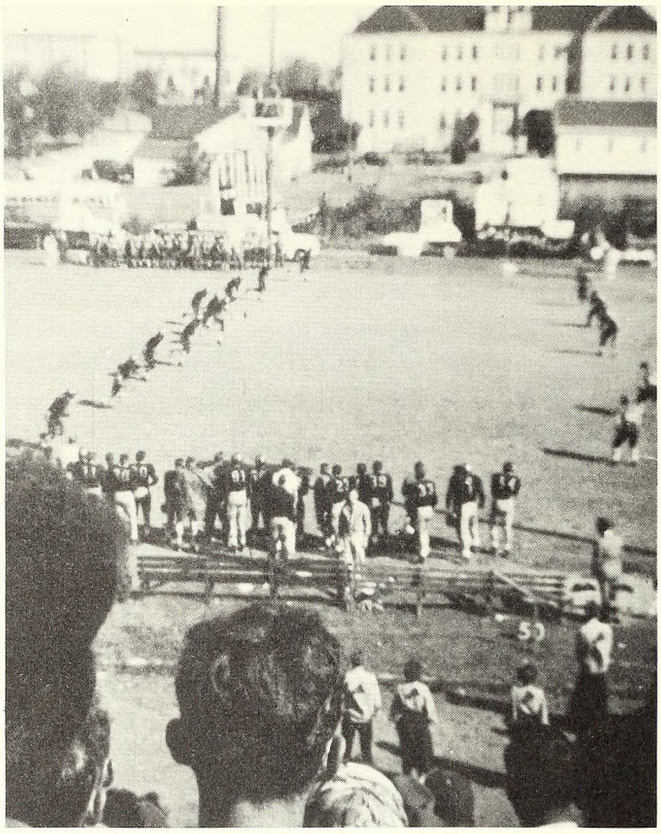

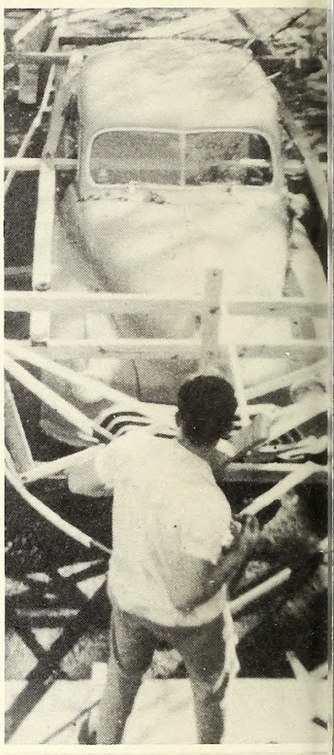

THE PARADE, FLOATS, WINNERS, AND STUFF
